CPD Overview

AquaTrace makes buildings truly smart, reducing downtime, streamlining repairs, and mitigating risk. This unique technology will protect your building from the very start, making it safer and more cost-efficient over its lifetime. As vital as sand and cement, all buildings should be built with AquaTrace.

AquaTrace built-in technology reports excess moisture in the building envelope before leaks can develop. Our team has developed the world's first intelligent waterproofing monitoring system, which has received worldwide patent protection. Made from standard building materials, this unique IoT technology integrates seamlessly into the building envelope and is compatible with all current construction processes.

As new systems of data analysis emerge and develop, AquaTrace technologies will be updated to enhance building envelope waterproofing and thermal performance, from construction phase and all through the lifetime of the building.

Water damage accounts for 70% of litigation in construction
